It is therefore, the policy of management to do all that is reasonably practicable to prevent personal injury and damage to property. Also, the organisation aims to protect everyone, including visitors and members of the public, insofar as they come into contact with our activities, from any foreseeable hazard or danger.

All employees have duties under the Health and Safety at Work etc. Act 1974 and are informed of their personal responsibilities to take due care of the health and safety of themselves and to ensure that they do not endanger other persons by their acts or omissions. Employees are also informed that they must co-operate with the college in order that it can comply with the legal requirements placed upon it and in the implementation of this policy.

Liverpool College will ensure continued consultation with the workforce to enable all viewpoints and recommendations to be discussed at regular intervals.

The College will ensure a systematic approach to identifying hazards, assessing the risks, determining suitable and sufficient control measures and information employees of the correct procedures needed to maintain a safe working environment.

We will provide, so far as reasonably practicable, safe places and systems of work, safe plant and machinery, safe handling of materials and substances, the provision of adequate safety equipment and ensure that appropriate information, instruction, training and supervision is given.
