THE NATIONAL FILM AND TELEVISION SCHOOL (NFTS) IS COMING TO LIVERPOOL.

Access NFTS, the outreach programme from the NFTS, aims to broaden the knowledge about the range of careers available behind the camera in the Film, TV, and Games industry. NFTS believe a career in the creative industries is possible for anyone, regardless of background or bank balance. It is their job to provide opportunity and information, especially to those from underrepresented groups within the industry and to those that think it's not a place for them, for whatever reason.

On Tuesday 15th July and Wednesday 16th July, they will be in Liverpool offering free screenings, masterclasses, and workshops, for those aged 16 and over. Find more details here

More details about this will follow next term but if anyone can support us in offering placements to our students, please email me on jdrew@liverpoolcollege.org.uk

This is the last Careers Newsletter for the academic year and I would like to thank everyone for their support for our careers education at Liverpool College. We have delivered some amazing events again this year and I look forward to the new academic year and the addition of work experience for KS3/4 to our curriculum. We are always on the look out for support with our careers talks, mock interviews and careers fair so if anyone would like to get involved, please email me and we can look to get you involved; this will be very much appreciated with work experience placements. I will be in school on both GCSE and A'level results days, to support students and their families.

I wish you all a restful and sunny summer. Mrs Drew, Careers Lead
